DR. F. B. BREWER,

was my partner in practice. The partnership was dissolved by mutual consent; that he might enter into the traveling business with Dr.
J. B. Resnick, the man who is now for his social and business acquaintances and for his medical attainments, have kept watch of him since, and have such faith in his skill and ability, that after suffering a long time with heart trouble and general nervous prostration from which I failed to be relieved, although many kind physicians had attended me in search of desired relief, I finally wrote to my old friend and partner, describing my case. He sent me medicine at once, of which I have been taking four weeks. I feel it due him, as well as those suffering from similar ailments, to give this testimony, which is unqualified. I am 61 years old and have practiced medicine 39 years.

FARMERS IN A TRUST.

Gigantic Grain Combination Projected.

THE SCHEME OF WESTERN FARMERS.

Its Objects as Outlined by a Prominent Alliance Official—Local Farmers and Business Men
at Out.

TIED OF WAITING FOR LEGISLATION.
TOPEKA, Kan., March 3.—A new alliance movement contemplates the formation of a huge live stock combination, including Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Iowa. Frank McGrath, president of the Farmers' Alliance, says that the project is one of the results of the failure of the alliance legislatures to pass certain bills.
Legislation, he says, is too slow a method for the achievement of the alliance objects. Mr. McGrath says that alliances are being formed in every congressional district and provisions are being made for building cold storage and grain depots. The district alliances will be made up of sub-alliances. In this way a constant communication from individual members of the alliance is to be had. He concludes:

"We will know how many cattle each member of the alliance has on hand, and he can hold them without selling for need of ready cash. A record of these facts will be kept.
No individual member will sell his grain to option men or bankers, but when he is obliged to sell the grain will be taken by the alliance.
The same thing will follow with cattle. We will have agents at Kansas City, Chicago and St. Louis who will keep the district alliances posted as to the market and the demand. Upon this information the demand will be supplied. No option will be on the market. There will be no speculation on grain before harvest. The four states in this trust will practically control the wheat and cattle markets of the United States. The commission each day will wire farmers to send in a certain amount of wheat or cattle, as the case may be, calling on those who are the hardest pressed for cash. The amount demanded to supply the market that day will be apportioned among the districts equally and in turn apportioned by the district alliance. No farmer who is a member of the alliance will sell his products till called upon. By this plan fluctuations in prices will be avoided. Other state alliances are expected to join the movement. The hardest thing we have to deal with is fixing the price. We mean to ascertain the exact cost of the product and add a reasonable profit to it.
This will give us a standard price that can be easily maintained. The new scheme is modeled in detail after the whisky trust. Of course you will say that our principles will not admit of it, but we have decided that we must fight the devil with fire, that is, we must fight trusts and combinations with trusts and combinations. While this scheme will reverse matters by putting the stock men and grain men at our mercy, we do not think any injury will result. The scheme looks visionary, perhaps, but will surely be followed out."

FARMERS VS. BUSINESS MEN.

DES MOINES, Ia., March 3.—There is likely to be trouble between the State Business Men's association and the Farmers' Alliance, growing out of the establishment by the latter of co-operative stores. To this the business men object, and have notified jobbers that they must either stop selling goods to the alliance or the members of the State Business Men's association will boycott them. The alliance threatens to retaliate by refusing to patronize members of the Business Men's association.

THE CHINESE MISSION.

SENATOR BLAIR MAY NOT GO TO PEKIN AFTER ALL—The Celestial Government May Protest Against His Appointment.
WASHINGTON, March 3.—There is a rumor here that Senator Blair may not go to China after all. The story is that the Chinese legation here has informed the government at Pekin that Blair is a labor agitator and a bitter opponent of Chinese immigration, and that he has on frequent occasions in the senate uttered sentiments hostile to China and insulting to her people. Extracts from some of Mr.
Blair's speeches were cabled on Saturday to the imperial government, and it is not at all unlikely that the latter may enter a protest against Mr. Blair's appointment. The latter has not yet concluded to accept the place, and may not declare his intentions until after the adjournment.

LOST IN THE STORM.

FOUR MEN OF A Boston Fishing Craft Drowned During a Gale.
BOSTON, March 3.—The fishing schooner Unique arrived Sunday with her colors at half mast for the loss of four of her men, Joseph King, John Crabell, John Antonio and Joseph Gill, all of Provincetown. The men were lost off the La Havre banks in the storm while in a dory. The captain and another man escaped a similar fate by hauling themselves on board with 400 fathoms of whale line, which they found trailing from the stern of the vessel.

The Pope's Birthday.

ROME, March 3.—The pope is receiving congratulations upon the occasion of the 80th anniversary of his birthday.
Upon receiving the visit of the sacred college of cardinals, his holiness compared the position and difficulties of the church in present times with the position of the church in the days of Pope Gregory. The pope said that he was gratified at the progress of the faith in England. He also said that if God appointed him until his Episcopal jubilee he would devote part of the offering he might receive to the suppression of slavery.

Death Roll of Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The number of deaths in this congress has exceeded by one those of any other congress. The death roll numbering fourteen, while that of the forty-fourth congress was thirteen, and the forty-fifth congress twelve. The percentage of deaths was larger in the forty-fourth congress than in this, as the number of members in that congress was but 359, against 415 in the present body.

Twenty-Four Oystermen Drowned.

RICHMOND, Va., March 3.—In the terrible gale which swept the lower James river Thursday night last twenty-four oystermen, mostly colored men, were drowned at points just above and below the mouth of the Warwick river.

Set Fire to Her Hair.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 3.—Mrs.
Marg. Germaine was arranging her towel by the light of a lamp, when, in some way, her hair caught fire, and before help could arrive she was so badly burned that death will ensue.

Ten Thousand for a Leg.

LIMA, O., March 3.—John Mackey, aged 10, has been awarded $10,000 damages against the Lake Erie & Western Railroad Company for the loss of a leg by a train running over him.

"UNCLE DICK'S" HARD LUCK.

Fire Destroys "Oglehurst," the Home of Ex-Gov. Oglesby, Near Elkhart, Ill.— Mrs. Oglesby Slightly Injured.

ELKHART, Ill., March 3.—"Oglehurst," the beautiful residence of ex-Gov. Richard J. Oglesby, near this city, was burned to the ground Monday morning.
The fire originated in the kitchen from a defective flue, and the building being frame and very dry was soon destroyed.
The family were all at home. Owing to the drought in this part of the state there was not sufficient water to check the flames. A few pictures, a piano and half a dozen books were saved. All of Mrs. Oglesby's jewels and the fine dresses and costly articles of use and adornment that she brought from Europe a year ago were lost. The general valuable papers and a costly and highly-prized sword that was presented to him a few years ago by his comrades of the battle of Corinth were also burned. Mrs. Oglesby was burned slightly about the face and her eyebrows and a portion of her hair were singed. Her injuries are not serious, however, and she will soon recover. The building was worth about $3,500 and the value of the articles of wearing apparel, books, furniture and bric-a-brac that were burned will amount to $20,000. There is no insurance whatever on either building or contents. A portion of the house was very old and was built entirely of oak and walnut. The other portion, built later, was of cheaper material. For the present the family have taken up their residence with Mrs. Gillette, the mother of Mrs. Oglesby.

TORTURED BY THIEVES.

Terrible Experience of a Milwaukee Man with Masked Robbers.

MILWAUKEE, March 3.—Andrew Kuerch, who resides at 638 Eighth avenue, had a lively time with robbers Sunday night. He sold some property Saturday, but did not take the money, $1,500, saying that he would call for it in a few days. Sunday night two men entered the house, wearing masks over the lower part of their faces. They quickly overpowered Kuerch, and one of them held a knife at his throat and threatened in case he made an outcry to kill him. They then asked where he kept his money. He replied that he had none of the money in the house.
The men then proceeded to torture their victim by sticking knives into him and also threatened to burn his feet with a red-hot poker. Kuerch had nothing to tell, however, and the robbers finally left him. He has given a description of his assailants, which may lead to their arrest.

MOONSHINERS AT WAR.

A Bloody Battle Reported Between Rival Gangs of Illicit Whiskymakers.

JONESBORO, Tenn., March 3.—Word reaches here that the notorious Wright and Potter gangs in Johnson county have been at war again with another gang of moonshiners. Details are very meager, but the report says that three or four people were killed.
It is known that two or three were fatally shot. The battle lasted two or three days. Both gangs are still under arms and the people in the neighborhood are alarmed.

Children Burned to Death.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Hans P. Jacobson, aged 9 years, and his little sister Merry, 4 years old, were burned to death in their home, 447 West Huron street, shortly before midnight. Their parents had gone to the theater, leaving the children alone. In some manner the house took fire. When the firemen arrived the little ones were found dead on the bed, locked in each other's arms.

Municipal Elections in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Ia., March 3.—Municipal elections were held throughout the state Monday. They generally passed off quietly and the vote was light. The issues were mainly local and but slight political significance attaches to the results. In towns where the liquor question was up no change was noticeable, the smaller towns usually remaining republican and the larger ones democratic.

The Plate Factory for Joliet.

JOLIET, March 3.—The fact that Joliet is to have an extensive tin plate mill is settled beyond a doubt. A contract has just been executed between several Joliet property owners and Lewis Brothers, capitalists of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Wales, Eng., by which South Joliet has secured a $500,000 plant, occupying twenty acres and furnishing a floor space of over 200,000 feet.

Disastrous Collision in Iowa.

OTTUMWA, Ia., March 3.—A collision between two Wabash freight cars near Carbon, Davis county, Sunday morning resulted in fatal injuries to two passengers, William and Oren Huns of Downtown, Mo. Brakeman Lon Bledsoe had an eye torn out, and three other train-men were slightly injured.

Illinois Legislature.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 3.—Mr.
Jones presented a petition for the passage of the school flag bill in the house.
After the joint session the house adjourned in the senate Mr. Rickert presided. Nothing was done. After the joint session the senate adjourned.

Living on State Lands.

COLUMBUS, O., March 3.—The state canal commissioners have discovered that a strip ten feet wide, on each side of the national road across the entire state, and belonging to the state, was held by private individuals. It amounts to thousands of acres.

OVER-HEARD.

Edie (as they leave the church)— Mamma, why do they have those big golden eagles on some of the church altars?
Freddie—It's cos they're birds of pray
—of course, silly.—Jury.

Reportorial Memories.

Mother—I'm glad to hear you went to church to-day. What was the sermon about?
Adult Son (a writer)—I don't know, mother; I haven't reported on my notes yet.—Good News.

Commendable.

All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the Cal. Fig Syrup Company, at sets gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pro-tensions that every bottle will not sub-

A STATUE UNVEILED AT LONDON.

Canon Farrar, the Archdeacon of Westminster, Delivers an Address Eulo-gistic of the Life of the Founder of Methodism.

ADAMS, Mass., March 2.—The Renew Manufacturing company lost $500,- 000 by fire in their works about this morning, valuable machinery being ruined.

IN WESLEY'S HONOR.

Observance of the Centenary of the Great Divine's Death.

LONDON, March 3.—The anniversary of the death of John Wesley, the progenitor of Methodism, was observed on a most extensive scale in this city.
Just after noon a magnificent bronze statue of the great divine, which stands in the city road, was formally unveiled with elaborate religious services and in the presence of an audience of several thousand.

The statue represents Wesley attired in his Oxford gown and with the Bible in his hand, just as he appeared a century ago while addressing the large audiences that gathered to hear him.
It stands in front of the Wesleyan chapel on the city road and directly opposite Bunhill Fields cemetery, where the remains of the founder are buried.
Memorial services were held by the Methodists in all the large cities as in many country districts and will continue through the week.

Rev. Frederic William Farrar, archdeacon of Westminster, took part in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the statue, and afterward with Sir Robert N. Fowler, one of the members of parliament for London city, addressed a meeting in the City Road chapel, retelling the virtues of Wesley. The archdeacon delivered a long and eloquent eulogy of John Wesley, during the course of which he said that he regretted, as a churchman, that the church had not all of one religion, and will endeavor to assimilate with the mighty enthusiasm which gave momentum to the Wesleyan movement. It seemed, said the archdeacon, shocking and disgraceful in Christians bound by a common Christianity to treat each other with mutual coldness. John Wesley himself, he added, set an example of splendid tolerance. The archdeacon, in conclusion, reminded the congregation of the words of William Penn—that the humble, meek, merciful and just ruler of our race, and will recognize each other when in another world with the mask off.

ALL EYES ON WILLIAM.

General uneasiness in Europe Over Recent utterances by the German Emperor—Chancellor Caprivi Expresses a Wish to Resign.

LONDON, March 3.—The Exchange Telegraph Co.'s London correspondent telegraphs that he has information derived from the highest source to the effect that a feeling of general uneasiness prevails in regard to Emperor William's utterances. The same correspondent adds that Chancellor Caprivi has signified to the emperor his desire to resign immediately after the termination of the auto-umn maneuvers. The chancellor, it is understood, does not approve of the imperial ideas and plans connected with recent one religion, and will recognize each other when in another
world with the mask off.

Battle for a Banker.

MCPHERSON, Kan., March 3.—Augustus Hegglund, president of the Second national bank of his city, was shot in a mysterious manner Monday evening. He had started for Kansas City, but for some unknown reason returned and was found in a dying condition. His bank failed Monday morning, and it is not known whether he was shot or shot himself. He cannot recover, and the mystery is not likely to be solved.

Tramps Steal a Woman's Hair.

PUEBLO, Col., March 3.—The residence of Frank Hill, a railroad man, was entered by two tramps and $15 in money and considerable wearing apparel taken. Before departing they cut out Mrs. Hill's hair close to her head, leaving it bald and bent her shoulderblade. She was found unconscious by her husband.

Mother and Babe Perish.

LIMA, O., March 3.—A sad case of suicide occurred here Monday when Mrs. Fred Neihausmeyer, aged about 50, suffering from insanity over the continued illness of her babe, was a fit of desperation grabbed the babe from its bed and rushing to an open cistern jumped in. Both were drowned.

Fatal Fight Between Kansas Farmers.

COUNCIL GROVE, Kan., March 3.— Isaac Dowell shot and instantly killed J. H. Wharton about eight miles north of this city Sunday afternoon. Dowell and Wharton were farmers and the shooting grew out of trouble over a farm both claimed to have rented.

Burlington Men at Aurora Discharged.

AURORA, Ill., March 3.—The reduction of expenses by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Co. affects Aurora rather seriously. Over 400 men have been discharged at the company's car and locomotive shops here.

The Illinois Deadlock.

SPRINGFIELD, March 3.—Two senators and eleven representatives were present in the joint assembly. A ballot was taken resulting as follows: Palmer, 7; Stroeter, 5; Oglesby, 1.

WHAT PROTECTION HAS DONE.

The industries which have been most highly protected in this country are those in which not only the greatest improvements have been effected, but the greatest reductions of price have taken place. Such reductions, however, are not those that result from the cheapening of men or the crushing out of humanity. They are the result of the cheapening of methods by requiring less sacrifice to be expended in production. The truth of this is evident from the fact that wages have not only not declined, but have risen.—The American Economist.

BUT NOTHING FOR FARMERS

While the democrats in the Wisconsin legislature make no bones of the fact that they are leagued against the farmers, they seem to be also like a Chinese wall against attacks on corporations. The bill reducing the rate of travel on railroads from 3 cents to 2 cents per mile on round trip tickets, introduced by a republican, will never be heard of. The bill reducing the rate of taxation in Forest county, a bill essentially favorable to corporations who own most of the county, and who should pay more toward improvements, has passed the assembly, and will probably pass the senate. The bill to abolish the food and dairy commissioner, which has the moral support, it is said, of $500,000 of Chicago packers' money, is likely to become a law. It is evident that, as a party, democrats are against the farmer, and for the railroad, telephone, telegraph and express companies.

ACHESON HAS A BACKBONE.

General praise is heard for the fearlessness with which Marshall Acheson has discharged his duties with regard to excessive law violations and similar evils. From saloon keepers on the rack yesterday show the marshal to be anything but a time server. For his disregard of political "influences" and his sturdy determination to see that the laws are obeyed, Marshall Acheson is entitled to much credit.

A recent census bureau bulletin shows that out of 45,233 penitentiary population in the United States last June, the foreign-born element furnished 14,725, the colored 14,687, and the native whites 13,725. The nationality of the balance is not stated. The aliens have more than their proportion, because the vicious elements have come over largely for business reasons. The Africans down south seem to get into public service in this way freely, perhaps on account of the difficulty of getting there in other ways.

Great Britain is to take its census on Sunday, April 5. The enumerators are to leave the blanks before that day, and all the data are to be located on it. The entire work is to be completed on the 6th. The idea seems to be that people will have more time on that day to fill up the blanks.

The heavy snow of late is considered a great boon to the Dakota wheat growers, as it will furnish moisture and keep the ground in condition for seeding. When there is no snow the theory is that the frost goes deeper and keeps the ground cool and moist. Whichever it is, it is the best.

A preacher in Tennessee, arrested for moonshining, thought he ought to be let off because he distilled supplies for his family only and was not in the trade. His plea did not pass.

A Mystery.

How the human system ever recovers from the bad effects of the numerous medicines often liberally poured into it for the supposed relief of dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, rheumatism and other ailments, is a mystery. The medicine does by the medicines is scarcely less than that caused by disease. If they were weak, bilious, dyspeptic, constipated or rheumatic, would often be guided by the experience of invalids who have thoroughly tested Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, they would in every instance obtain the speediest and derivable from rational medication. This medicine is a searching and at the same time a thoroughly safe remedy, derived from vegetable sources and possessing, in consequence of its basis of pure spirits, properties as a medicinal stimulant not to be found in the fiery local bitters and stimulants often resorted to by the debilitated dyspeptic and languid.

"If a woman will, she will." If she will take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for her cold, she will be cured.

Take good advice—I have suffered with bad headaches for years, and have tried many remedies without obtaining relief. I was allowed to give Balaire Oil a trial, and it has entirely cured me.

A Gentle Hint.

Fred's mamma had trained him by "example and precept" to be courteous, and the seldom forgot the lesson, even under very trying circumstances. One afternoon a maiden aunt, who was something of a trial to Fred, came to the house while his mamma was away and insisted on his rehearsing all the new verses and songs he had learned at kindergarten since her last visit. He went through his repertoire patiently until he was quite tired, and still his aunt demanded another and another.

ARE BUSY IN CONGRESS

Bills Rushed Through at a Rapid Rate

A SESSION DEVOTED TO HARD WORK.

The Senate Accepts the House Postal Subsidy Bill—The Paddock Pure Food Bill and the Conger Lard Bill Smothered.

THE DAY'S WORK.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The important legislation of Monday in congress may be briefly summarized. The senate accepted the Conger substitute postal subsidy bill just as it came from the house and it now awaits the president's signature.

The house bill correcting the error of the McKinley bill in abrogating the provisions of the Hawaiian treaty has also been accepted, as has the house measure appropriating $1,000,000 for the Mississippi river improvements.

The conference reports on the Indian depredations and the timber culture repeal bills have been agreed to.

The house has sent to the senate a substitute for its meat inspection bill.

The house has sent the copyright bill back to conference, instructing its conferees not to agree to the Sherman amendment, permitting the importation of foreign copyright books on payment of tariff duties.

The senate has included in the general deficiency bill a provision for the payment of French spoliation claims to the amount of $1,300,000.

The Paddock pure-food bill and the Conger lard bill went by the board together in the senate committee on appropriations. Senator Paddock (Neb.) made a desperate effort to secure the attachment of his bill to the agricultural appropriation bill, but was defeated by the efforts of Senator Allison (Ia.), who opposed it as likely to cause too much discussion in the senate.

Monday morning Senator Paddock proposed the pure-food bill as an amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill in open session. Senator Washington (Minn.) immediately arose and proposed the Conger lard bill as an amendment. The point of order was made that the bill was new legislation. Vice President Morton, prompted by Senator Edmunds, decided the amendment not in order and Senator Paddock appealed at once from the decision of the chair. The vote was a close and exciting one, the decision being sustained and the bill lost by a vote of 27 to 26, a majority of a single vote.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The president has approved the direct tax bill.

the items were agreed to—yeas, 49; nays, 10.

The next subject that provided discussion was the proposition to give a month's extra pay to the officers and employees of the house. Senator Plumb spoke of the unaccountable extravagance of the two houses and said that while the pay of the senators amounted to $400,000 a year, the pay of those who waited on them amounted to $500,000. The house item was struck out of the bill—yeas, 31; nays, 21.

WORK OF THE PATRONS

Dispute on Farm Loans at Clinton

THE INSTITUTE A SUCCESS

Many inclined to Oppose the Alliance Measure as Introduced by Senator Stanford—But Sugar Making and Sheep-Raising Recommended.

The farmers institute under the supervision of the Patrons of Industry, held in Wyman hall, Clinton, was a success in every way. At 10:45 the meeting was called to order by Chairman John Crockett, of South Huron Association, and the exercises opened with a song by male quartette led by Professor Jeffries.

Philo Barrett, president of the Clinton association, read his paper on "Farming for Profit." It treated of the different phases of farming and farm life, the profits of the different crops and stock raised in this section and was well received.

There was a continual noise caused by the people entering the hall, during the reading of T. W. Tuttle's paper on "Unsolved Problems in Farming." The subject was an interesting one and well handled. It is to be regretted that more were not present to hear it.

The afternoon session opened with a paper on horse breeding by I. L. Hoover, of the Clinton association.

By the time Professor Henry arose to address them, the hall was packed to its full capacity. His subject was "Sugar Beet Culture." Among the sections where he said was best adapted for the purpose he included the vicinity of Janesville, and spoke of the method of sowing the seed, cultivating and marketing, and gave a very interesting description of manufacturing the beet into sugar.

Dr. Williams, of the Fairfield association, read a paper on "One of the Causes of Hay-Diseases, and one of the Remedies," presenting the financial condition of the country, the lack of money in circulation, the two per cent bill presented to congress by Senator Stanford, etc. His ideas met with opposition as they are new to many and appear to be rather radical. Mr. Williams, however, is well posted on his subject, and presents strong arguments in its defense.

The subject of sheep raising and dairying was presented by S. B. Jones, president of Sumnerville Association. He figures sheep-raising the more profitable, and in the discussion that followed Mr. Jones proved his ability to handle the subject in good shape.

H. U. Thom was called for, and asked for a resolution by the meeting, favoring a liberal appropriation for the Wisconsin exhibit at the World's Fair.

The Bradford association and cingers and Professor Jeffries' quartette furnished most excellent singing for the session.

The evening session was nearly as well attended as the afternoon, the hall being well filled.

The president of Fairfield association was first with his paper on "The Best Method of Keeping up the Fertility of the Soil." His paper was considered one of the best of the day, and was especially well received by the patron farmers. Professor Henry then gave a "general talk" to the farmers, young and old, closing with a plea for improvement in methods, machinery and stock. The superb and grade sire receiving his special approval.

A vote of thanks was given Professor Henry, the singers and musicians for so materially aiding in the interest of the session.

R. G. Iman, president of Bradford Association, presented his subject of "The Wind Mill as a Motor; the General Appearance of the Farm, etc." This subject is of general interest to all farmers, as the wind mill is fast establishing its claims as a motor on the farm. The cheapness in operating the same, the amount of work that can be done, the saving to the farmer by its use, the different kinds of mills, the attractiveness of farm buildings and surroundings, tending toward making the farm pleasant to the young as well as the old, are all touched upon in an able and interesting manner. G. H. Rogers, of Clinton, then explained the aims and objects of the Patrons of Industry in a manner that pleased the members. The music for the evening was furnished by Curtis' orchestra.

The day's work closed by all singing "America."

This meeting grew out of a debate or discussion on the resolution to abolish the system of farm institutions as now conducted. Those in favor of no further appropriations, claiming that the farmers would derive as much actual benefit from an institute by our home talent, as from the keep of the $21,000 appropriation. The opposition proposed they "try it," and at first confined them to members of the organization; but by their own request Professor Henry was invited, and kindly consented to be with us. The Patrons feel well satisfied with the success of their first attempt, and more meetings of this kind will probably follow.

WANT W. R. GRAHAM FOR MAYOR.

A Former Janesville Boy Honored by Iowa Republicans.

W. R. Graham, son of Hon. Alex. Graham of this city, and for many years a Janesville boy, has been made the republican nominee for mayor in Cedar Falls, Iowa. Says the Cedar Falls Gazette: "The principal interest in the caucus centered upon the nomination of mayor, the first ballot showing a large majority for W. R. Graham, who was made the unanimous choice. Being subsequently called upon to state that he expected to be at home hereafter he elected by other citizens. We believe it elected for the best interests of all, with full and clear comprehension of what is needed to aid our prosperity and keep us on the road to greater success and growth. His large acquaintance with men and knowledge of other cities, will be helpful, while his ability and knowledge of law and parliamentary usages are of a high order. He has the time and will give careful attention to the duties of the office."

FAVOR THE NEW SCHOOL

Janesville Board of Education Debate Over the Feeble Minded.

A short but highly interesting session of the school board was held last evening, all the commissioners being present.

No incident occurred of unusual moment until after the board had adopted bills amounting to twelve dollars, and adopted a resolution authorizing the purchase of a copy of the Rock County Atlas for the High School.

"Has the superintendent anything to report?" inquired President Fethers. Superintendent Cooley explained that he had received several letters from Professor Salisbury, relating to the proposed new state institution for the feeble minded. He followed this up by reading a memorial to the legislature praying for the passage of the senate bill appropriating $35,000 for the establishment of such a school.

Commissioner Wilson—who introduced that bill?

Professor Cooley—I do not know.

Commissioner Wilson then took the floor and argued against any such action on the part of the board. In his opinion there were not twenty-five hundred idiots in the state, as Professor Salisbury claimed, and he could not see why this measure was sprung at this time on a democratic legislature.

Commissioner McLean had counted on his fingers several individuals who ought to be inmates of such an institution, and was in favor of adopting the memorial.

Commissioner McElroy was in favor of adopting the memorial, and the yeas and nays were called. All the commissioners voted yes except Commissioner Wilson, who voted an emphatic "No."

In the "last meeting" which followed adjournment there was considerable discussion of the question, and Commissioner Wilson wavered the cigars for the party with President Fethers that no such a law would pass the present legislature.

"I know the legislature is capable of making many blunders," said Mr. Fethers, "but I do not believe they will be so blind as to neglect this humane measure."

TEMPLE'S PITIFUL PLIGHT.

Officers Find Him in the Storm Almost Without Clothing.

John H. Temple, whose pitiful plight was mentioned in the Gazette last week, was taken to jail last evening by Marshal Acheson who found him trying to get into William Smith's law office.

The former music teacher is a complete wreck. When arrested last evening he was very poorly dressed. His coat was taken off at the jail and it was discovered that in spite of the severe weather he was without a shirt, and that under his coat he had absolutely no clothing.

When the poor old man was taken into the jail and allowed to sit down by the fire he was overjoyed.

"He ran up to the stove the way a half-starved kitten would to a pan of milk," Marshal Acheson this morning. "He rubbed his hands together and said that he was satisfied at any hotel where they kept such a good fire. I don't wonder at it either," said the marshal, "last night was not a very good time to sleep out of doors, and I should think that he would have frozen to death."

Temple claims to have an uncle and a brother in Iowa, and charitable people are taking steps to send him there.

TORE OFF ONE EAR.

Conductor Hunter Flung Down by a Fast-Moving Train.

E. L. Hunter, conductor on H. G. Ebbett's train and a man well known in this city, looked death in the face a few moments yesterday afternoon. He lay between the depot platform and the Chicago & Northwestern tracks at Oakfield. On one side of him was the unyielding plane of the platform, while on the other side a freight train was whizzing by. The conductor kept his presence of mind, and bracing his feet and hands against the ends of the tie, managed to keep himself from being whirled under the swiftly running train.

The train was a long one, and the conductor was fainting when the trainmen rescued him from his terrible position. Blood covered his face and head, and he did not answer when spoken to, the trainmen thought he was dead.

Washing the blood from his face they discovered that the flow of blood came from a bad scalp wound in his head. One ear had been torn off by a brake-beam, and a constant stream of blood flowed from the ragged edge.

The company surgeon at Oakfield was summoned and dressed the wound in Hunter's head, and sewed on the torn ear. Hunter is a married man and resides at Fort Howard. He says he slipped while walking beside the engine and fell between the engine and platform. There he laid while the entire train passed him. Only by his presence of mind was he saved from being ground to pieces.

AN ACQUITTAL DEAD.

Father of W. F. Williams Passes Away at Evansville.

In the death of Wright Williams at Evansville, February 28, there passed away one of the oldest, if not the oldest, Wisconsin veterans of the civil war. Mr. Williams came to Wisconsin from New York state in 1855. When the war broke out he enlisted in Company E, Thirty-third Wisconsin Infantry. Five sons—Gilbert, John, Elson, William F. and George, entered the army at about the same time, making a family of six whose patriotism called them to the front. Gilbert and John died in the service; Elson lost a leg at Gettysburg, and is now in the employment of the government at Washington; William F. lives in Janesville; Gray in Bakersville, California; Jay L. in Janesville.

At the close of the war Mr. Williams returned to Evansville, where he has since resided. He enjoyed the confidence of the entire community and was a life-long member of the Congregational church. His wife, Elizabeth, was eighty years old the 27th of February. She never lost the feeling of patriotism that prompted her to send a husband and five sons to the scene of her country, and the two little girls that were placed upon the coffin at her request as the last tribute, expressed patriotically the love that never grows old. The separation after fifty-three years of happy life will command the warmest sympathy of many friends.

The funeral services were held at the house yesterday, conducted by Rev. W. B. Stevens. The bearers were J. R. West, O. E. Lee, Charles Lowry, Charles Conroy, T. F. Shurran, Joel Morgan, all old army comrades. The remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Evansville.

NO SIGN FOR ECONOMY.

Democratic Legislators Changing Their Tactics.

MADISON, March 3.—[Special]—The cry of the democratic legislators for retrenchment and reform does not originate in the remotest part of the bourbon, but is only made for campaign purposes. At first the farmers' institutes were to be abolished. Then a bill was introduced reducing the running expenses of the legislature from twelve to five thousand dollars, and this morning that bill was formally killed, thus leaving the matter standing where it was originally.

Senate bills were passed to-day preventing deception in dairy products; appropriating four hundred and thirty-seven dollars for current expenses of charitable and penal institutions; making trustees of county asylums for the chronic insane ex-officio trustees of county poor houses; amending the charter of the Wisconsin Old Fellows Mutual Life Insurance Company; and empowering women to act as court commissioners.

COTTON MILL SUIT ENDED.

Janesville Manufacturers Win in the Trade-Mark Contest—Will Ingle's Discharged—Margaret Mather's Private Car—Gift for Prof. Severance.

One hundred years ago yesterday the founder of Methodism closed his eyes in the last sleep. It was to commemorate that death that Wesleyan memorial services were held in the First M. E. church last evening.

An appropriate programme had been prepared under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Evans, and the following papers were presented:

"Wesley as a Student and Author"—Rev. A. J. Hendrickson.

"Wesley as a Preacher and Founder"—O. N. Frink.

"Peculiar Doctrines of Methodism"—Dr. Gish.

In the absence of Presiding Elder Bosworth, who was to have taken part, Rev. M. Evans took the other two subjects, "Benefits of Methodism to the World, State and Individual," and "Reminiscences of Early Methodism."

As the hymns were sung Colonel Nicholas Smith explained their origin and meaning. The attendance was large, although the inclement weather kept many people away.

Janesville Mills Win.

For a year the suit of the Lawrence Manufacturing Company to prevent the Janesville Cotton Mills' using the brand "L. L." on a special grade of cloth, has occupied the courts. The brand was used by fourteen mills in different parts of the country to designate a grade of goods running four yards to the pound.

The Lawrence Manufacturing Company insisted that it had originated the brand, and that it was a trade mark which other mills could not use. The United States supreme court yesterday rendered a verdict on the case, in which the decrees of the United States circuit court for the Western district of Wisconsin were affirmed. Chief Justice Fuller giving the opinion. Under this ruling the mark "L. L." is held to be merely an indication of weight, and as such is the common property of all mills.
